A woman with long, wavy brown hair and dark eye makeup is wearing a black lace crown and finger cages. She is posing in a forest setting with green foliage in the background. The crown is made of black lace with gold-colored beads and a central cross-like ornament. The finger cages are also made of black lace with gold-colored details. She is holding a black feather in her right hand.

Behind 'Goddess' with Yellow Bubbles

Monica contacted us wanting to book a Grecian inspired shoot. We started consulting about overall styling and exchanged images until we found a style we both liked. When it came time to choose the location, we had perfect spot in mind.... a beautiful rose garden. We chose it because it had gorgeous pillars, greenery and a pop of colorful flowers. Once Monica arrived, Spoiled Cherry started makeup, incorporating gold to match the color theme. Then, Monica's hairdresser started working on the intricate braided style we decided on. The dresses Monica purchased gave a modern nod to the Grecian style. Spoiled Cherry provided a few beautiful headpieces that completed the look. We shot with natural light with Spoiled Cherry assisting and providing coaching. Overall, after editing, I was very pleased with the dreamy quality of the final images.

I am a multi published Colombian, Italian and Guatemalan cover model, photographer, makeup artist and esthetician born in Queens, New York, raised in Southern California. I have been a licensed esthetician and makeup artist for over ten years. I started photography and modeling three years ago. I'm proud to say that I'm a self taught makeup artist and photographer. I do admit that I'm completely in love with all my crafts and I love being artistic and creative as well. I'm very fortunate to be able to love what I do as an artist. I've realized that being artistic is a part of me and through makeup, modeling and photography I can experience that on a daily basis whether it's in front of the camera or behind the camera or just being artistic as a makeup artist. The key to life is to always love what you do. Inspire others in the process and believe in yourself and your dreams. There is nothing more beautiful in life than being a passionate and driven about that you do. I feel very fortunate to say I enjoy and embrace everything that I do as an artist. Not everyone will always love what you do, but as long as you feel accomplished and fulfilled with your dreams and goals that is all that truly matters.

A person is sitting in a garden, their back to the camera. They are wearing a dark, possibly black, dress. Their right arm is extended forward, revealing a large, intricate tattoo on the forearm. The tattoo features swirling, floral-like patterns. The person is sitting on a low, dense hedge. In the background, there are more hedges and trees, with sunlight filtering through the foliage, creating a soft, dappled light effect. The overall mood is serene and artistic.

For this shoot, the location was taken place at Ohio State Reformatory. It is an annual group shoot event. They close off to public just for us to use. If it looks familiar, that's because OSR has been used to film various movies. Most recognizable, Shawshank Redemption. Obviously you can see the appeal. The specific pictures shown were all taken in the Tuberculosis Ward. You have to take roughly 8 flights of stairs to get to it.

To get great pictures, it has to be a team effort. Model is alluring Kellie Jay. Deanna Roberts from Makeup Vamp is responsible for model's flawless makeup. Wardrobe comes from the unbelievably talented and amazing Rachel Frank Designs (RDF). Last but not least, the person who brings all these elements together to capture all their artistic work is the photographer, a.k.a Chief Button Pusher a.k.a Brett Stoddart a.k.a Tidy Photography.

Family and Modeling. The two things I adore. I live in the country with my husband Ben and our four boys. We have a pool, pond to fish, and plenty acres for dirt bikes and 4 wheelers. As a mom of all boys you can imagine all this gets great use. But as much as I love all of them all and my country life, I am actually very girly. Modeling lets me, be me. It has become my outlet and reminder who 'Kellie ' is outside of 'Mommy.' I absolutely love both lives and although it's not very easy to balance it all out it's all so worth it.

Cinema Verite with Russ Turner

In most cases, a successful photo shoot involves extensive planning: Discussions between models and photographer take place; Stylists and makeup artists are consulted for wardrobe and overall look. For location shoots, a site visit to identify best shooting spots and identify any issues usually happens as well. Then there are times when none of this happens: This is one of those shoots. From planning to completion this shoot took less than 24 hours to put together.

In February, the Historic Michigan Theater in Jackson, Michigan hosted a Steampunk event with a showing of H.G. Wells "The Time Machine" and featuring guests from the Game Show Network show "Steampunk'd" and other Steampunk Personalities including Model Amy Wilder. Due to travel timing, there was no opportunity to set up a studio shoot. This difficulty however, turned into a positive as the Michigan Theater graciously allowed us the use of the theater for a shoot.

The Michigan Theater originally opened April 30, 1930. It featured a Spanish inspired style with ornate plasterwork, carved wood furniture, heavy damask draperies and plush wool carpeting. Unlike many theaters of its era, the Michigan Theater has avoided excessive modernization and still has the classic Hollywood feel to its interior which provided us a number of photogenic areas in which to shoot. The photos in this set were captured in the hallway behind the lower balcony at the theater. Amy provides the makeup and styling for most of her shoots and so came with a variety of wardrobe options and accessories including the elegant Victorian ensemble in these photos. As it was a location shoot, and not knowing what services would be available, lighting equipment was kept to a minimum. For most of the shoot a single mono-light and softbox were used. A grid on the softbox was also used to create a more dramatic look that matched the surrounding architecture.

Amy Wilder got her start as a model at Savannah College of Art & Design modeling for a fellow student who was majoring in photography. Based in Atlanta Georgia, Amy has made a name for herself as a top steampunk and fantasy costume model. She has been featured in "Southern Peach Magazine" and "We Rise Magazine" as well as Clockwork Magazine, Obscurae and Surreal Beauty. Amy has since expanded her modeling into Alt, Cosplay, Pinup and Lingerie genres. She is especially fond of Steampunk and her association with noted Steampunk Artist Thomas Willeford and Brute Force Studios as a promotional model and costuming intern has allowed her to travel to a number of Steampunk Conventions around the country and shoot with a wide range of photographers. Aside from being an outstanding model, Amy is also versatile and styles most of her shoots, providing hair, makeup and wardrobe. She also makes some of her own costume pieces. She has also been the inspiration for fine art images by noted pinup artist Armando Huerta and sculptor Mark A. Dennis (also known as Madsculptor). Other artists that have drawn her include Fred Vervisch, Steve Pulawa, Derik Diaz, Hendrik Noack, James Herman, James Graves, and Misterponce Murchia.
